Furs of all kinds Colored AND Dressed, and Bought and Sold.

E. Morse & Co. FURRIERS,

East End Kenduskeag Bridge, One door from Low's City Market.

WOULD respectfully inform the inhabitants of this city and vicinity, that they will richly Color and Dress all kinds of Furs and warrant the color to remain fast, and preserve its brilliancy and elegance. Fox, Martin and Loup Cervier will be colored and dressed in a manner which cannot be excelled in Europe, notwithstanding it is reported that these skins cannot be dressed and colored in this country. E. M. & Co. will likewise restore the original color of old Fur Caps, thus making new from old. Buffalo Robes will be beautifully colored, and sleigh Robes manufactured.

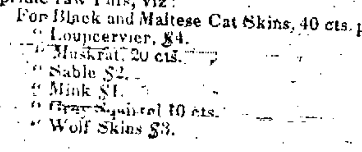

Those who wish to inform themselves of E. M. & Co's proficiency in the coloring and dressing of Skins, are politely requested to call on Mr. DAVID [illegible] they have liberty to refer, and for whom they have done some service. They refer as above in consequence of the efforts of two individuals to injure them in their business.

As the summer and fall is a favorable time to do this work, on account of the weather it will be done much cheaper now than in the winter.

E. M. & Co. will pay the following prices for prime raw Furs, viz:
For Black and Maltese Cat Skins, 40 cts. pr skin,
" Loupcervier, $4.
" Muskrat, 20 cts.
" Sable $2.
" Mink $1.
" Gray Squirrel 10 cts.
" Wolf Skins $3.

P. S. E. M. & Co return thanks for the liberal encouragement which has been rendered them since their residence in Bangor, and would give notice that they are now manufact'g Fur Caps & cloth do with Fur bands, latest styles; Muffs, Tippets, Boas, Fur Gloves, Buffalo Coats, Sleigh Robes, Moccasins, together with every article in the Fur line worn by Ladies and Gentlemen. Linen Glazed Caps constantly on hand. The above articles will be sold cheap for cash, or will be exchanged for raw Furs.

SAND'S SARSAPARILLA.

FOR the removal and permanent cure of all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, or habit of the system.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, Rheumatism, Obstinate Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples, or Pustiles on the Face, Blotches, Biles, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ring Worm or Tetter, Scald Head, Enlargement and Pain of the Bones and Joints, Stubborn Ulcers, Syphilitic Symptoms, Sciatica, or Lumbago, and Diseases arising from an injudicious use of Mercury, Ascites, or Dropsy, Exposure or Imprudence in Life. Also, Chronic Constitutional Disorders will be removed by this Preparation.

If there be a pleasure on earth which superior beings cannot enjoy, and one which they might almost envy men the possession of, it is the power of relieving pain. How consoling then is the consciousness of having been the instrument of rescuing thousands from misery, to those who possess it. What an amount of suffering has been relieved, and what a still greater amount of suffering can be prevented by the use of Sand's Sarsaparilla! The unfortunate victim of hereditary disease, with swollen glands, contracted sinews, and bones half carious, has been restored to health and vigor. The Scrofulous patient, covered with ulcers, loathsome to himself, and to his attendants, has been made whole. Hundreds of persons, who had groaned hopelessly for years under cutaneous and glandular disorders, chronic rheumatism, and many other complaints springing from a derangement of the secretive organs, and the circulation, have been raised as it were from the rack of disease, and now, with regenerated constitutions, gladly testify to the efficacy of this inestimable preparation.

Copy of a letter received from Mrs Asenath M. Phillips of Norwich, Conn. after she had been using the medicine about eight days. Comment on such evidence is unnecessary.

Norwich, Oct. 8, 1842.

Messrs. Sands: Gentlemen, It is with the greatest pleasure, and a heart overflowing with gratitude, I sit down to address you, to inform you of my health, which is rapidly improving every day. Those tormenting pains in my limbs, which have followed me for nineteen years and six months, which were taking my life by inches, tortured and racked to that degree I could not sleep any more than a person wrapped in embers, or with some living creature biting the flesh. Not one single night have I slept all night during the whole of that time; and wonderful to tell, on the 26th of October, I went to bed at 10 o'clock, and slept sweet sleep till morning, and have continued to ever since, which is five nights; the best sleep which I ever enjoyed in my life. The sores on my limbs are growing smaller, and on one side there appears to be new flesh growing. The water is going off by degrees from my head to my feet. It is about two days since it reached my feet, so as to leave wrinkles on my skin. Nothing ever before reached my case until I tried your Sarsaparilla. If I continue to take it until the water is all removed from my feet and ankles, I will get well. I want you to send me some more by the next boat, by Mr Willcox. Can I find words to tell you how much I am indebted to you? No, I cannot. When physicians failed to help, and friends gave me up to die, it seemed that the Lord put it into the heart of strangers to find out a remedy and send it to me before the lamp went out. The scripture saith, "He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord,—and that which he hath given will pay him again.

I must close my letter by subscribing myself your friend. ASENATH M. PHILLIPS.

NEW PRINCIPLES OF PURGATION. CORNARO'S Purifying and Preserving PILLS.

THE American public has for a long time been the victim of a false and dangerous system of medicine founded on the practice of LONG CONTINUED AND UNRELIEVED PURGATION. The evils of this old system are of the most wide-spread and alarming character. They have reached through every vein and artery of our nation. In every city, and village, and hamlet—in every State and Territory of our vast Republic, will be found those who have suffered, or who are still suffering from the injurious effects of this old system, of whose practical utility the disease, decay, and utter prostration, of those who test it furnish the most condemning proofs!

COMMON DRASTIC PURGATION Scours out the system by the most improper and violent means, and then leave it, weak, low, feeble and debilitated, to regain its strength as best it may. Sometimes the consequences of this old Purgative practice are worse than mere Debility. Inflammation of the Bowels, Slow Fever, Bloody Piles, and other horrible disorders are produced, simply from the want of some enlivening and preserving power in the medicine employed. Sometimes the digestive organs are deeply and permanently injured by this coarse and unphilosophical practice, leaving the patient AN INVALID FOR LIFE.

The alarming evils and absurdities of the old system of Purgation, have led to the introduction of a new Life-giving Medicine, called CORNARO'S PURIFYING AND PRESERVING PILLS, which are established on this new and only true principle of Purgation, viz:

NO PURGATION WITHOUT IMMEDIATE RESTORATION.

The use of this admirable Purgative remedy strikes a death blow to that abominable system, which by continually evacuating the bowels without any conservative or saving power, so dreadfully and fearfully prostrates and injures the unhappy patient. These Purifying and Preserving Pills are believed to constitute the perfection of medicine, being a UNIVERSAL VEGETABLE PURGATIVE, containing two great remedies combined viz: One remedy to PURIFY FROM CORRUPTION, and another to PRESERVE FROM INJURY AND DECAY.

And for the purpose of attaining the highest degree of purity in the preparation of these Pills, Dr. Bradlee has, at a vast expenditure of time and money, invented and patented at Washington a chemical and philosophical apparatus for distilling and refining vegetable extracts, called THE SEVEN-FOLD FURNACE,

A powerful and novel machine—having Seven Fires and Seven Alembics, with distilling, condensing, and evaporating fixtures of a new and ingenious contrivance, capable of obtaining more than seven times the ordinary purity of any vegetable extract heretofore used in compounding medicine. The Balsamic and Preserving power of these Pills is also, by this invention, highly purified and refined, and so mingled with the operative medicine, that it repairs all the injuries created by Purgation as soon as they are caused, and strongly fortifies the system against future corruption and decay.

Let the public be no longer deceived by the advertisements of the "one remedy" doctors, who show their entire ignorance of the organic laws of the human system by supposing that a medicine which purges merely, without renovating or preserving, can be a perfect remedy. For it is a fixed and immutable law of our being that there should be, in no case, Purgation without immediate Restoration, and hence it follows, and is proved to demonstration, that all Purgatives which DO NOT possess a saving and preserving power, are injurious, and injurious only, and possess NOT ONE REDEEMING QUALITY.

The whole theory of common drastic Purgation is based upon unnatural and absurd laws, and they who follow it fall victims to their own folly, and too late repent their temerity.

☞ BEWARE OF UNRELIEVED PURGATION! Purge and Preserve, or do not attempt to Purge at all.

☞ The celebrated PURIFYING AND PRESERVING PILLS, purify the body from corruption and preserve it from injury and decay by a single operation. They are a Universal Vegetable Purgative, of sovereign use in all diseases of the human system in which purgation is required, particularly in Jaundice, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Eruptions of the Skin, Scrofula, Piles, Costiveness, Billious Disorders, Liver Complaint, Fevers, Nervous Disorders, Inward Weakness, Cholic, Dysentary, Worms, Gout, Rheumatism, Female Complaints, Depression of Spirits, Debility of System, Fits, &c., &c.

☞ Price 25 cents per Box, with full directions, Essay on Health and Long Life, &c.

IT HAS BEEN ESTIMATED THAT UPWARDS OF 200,000 Persons Visited that splendid Edifice OAK HALL, SINCE ITS ERECTION, AND THAT 150,000 HAVE BEEN CLOTHED AT THIS POPULAR Tailoring Establishment.

THE reasons why Clothing can be sold at this Establishment so much LOWER than at any other places are these:

First—Our retail sales are about ten times the amount of any other establishment in Boston.

Second—We do a sole Cash Business, consequently the purchaser does not have to pay for the defaulting debtor's clothes, and all the genteel class of trade that have been in the habit of ordering their clothes up town, and their bill sent once or twice a year, have found that they can make a SAVING OF ABOUT ONE HALF, by cash down, at OAK HALL, and can get a garment made in as good style, or a little better.

"If I were to judge by some samples worn, which sit upon the human form divine, as though Nature's journeymen had made them, AND NOT MADE THEM WELL," so that with all this immense trade of Custom Work, and a large quantity sold daily ready-made, I am enabled to sell at Extra low Price.

All our custom work is made by Journeymen Tailors, and we employ none other than the MOST SCIENTIFIC CUTTERS.

☞ To give the public an idea of the extent of my business, I will merely state that I have at this time in my employ
8 Fashionable Cutters.
3 Trimmers;
1 Cashier and Book keeper;
1 Paymaster;
15 Salesmen;
1 Express and Driver;
3 Runners;
80 Journeymen expressly for our nice custom work, and the astonishing number of 2000 Operatives, on thin work, adapted for Spring and Summer.

☞ Wholesale dealers will find at this establishment every description of Ready-Made Clothing, IN ANY QUANTITY.

☞ Gentlemen will recollect we ask no more at retail, and that we have an endless variety of RICH PIECE GOODS, ALWAYS ON HAND, which will be made to measure in that style of elegance for which this establishment has become so celebrated.

It is not to a town, or city, or a state,
Or a nation, that we our addresses confine,
All our plans are mature, and our efforts are great,
O'er all climes of the earth without rival to shine!
To all nations we speak! for all nations we toil!
And we look for support in this glorious strife;
We resolve that no obstacle ever shall foil
The grand aim of our heart, while we linger in life!
We discard all the snares and the frauds of the trade
We lift up the standard of spotless reform;
And we trust that so long as that standard's display-ed.
The smile of the world will defend from the storm.
We repose in the public a confidence strong,
And believe that they will not neglect our endeavor;
The success we have met has encouraged us long.
And we thank and assure them 'we'll merit it ever.'

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE WOOD-ENGRAVER; Or, the Odd Fellow's Claim.

BY J. H. INGRAHAM.

'Where this evening, Charles?' asked a lovely married woman of her husband. The tone was slightly sneering, though she smiled as she spoke.

'I am on the visiting committee and have to make a call on a sick brother,' answered Mr. Preston as he put on his gloves.

The lady pouted.

He took up his hat, and approached her with a playful smile.

'Ah, Mary, I fear you will never overcome your hostility—it is no longer prejudice but hostility to the Lodge.'

'And I do not wish to. Here you were away from me Tuesday night until nine o'clock and now on Thursday you are off again!'

'But I have duties I owe to others as well as to yourself, Mary! I give you five evenings and oftener six in every week, besides a great portion of my time during the day. We must sacrifice something for others. As members of the great community, we have duties external to those due our immediate families.'

'But you had no such duties until you became an Odd Fellow.'

'I did not till I became an Odd Fellow see so plainly the duty I owed to my fellow creatures as I now do. Becoming an Odd Fellow has enlarged my views of benevolence and opened to me a field for its exercise.'

'And pray what are you to exercise it upon to night. Who do you visit?' she asked, with a toss of her pretty head.

'A young married man by the name of Pellon who joined the Lodge a year ago, I learn by a note I received from the Noble Grand while I was at tea, is discovered to be quite ill. He has been absent from the Lodge for several meetings but as no one reported him ill, I was not aware of it till just now. As he lives in the next street I must go and see him.'

'What is he?'

'An Odd Fellow.'

'I mean his trade?'

'That is, you mean how respectable is he?—We Odd Fellows, Mary, know no distinction of trades within the Lodge. We are all brothers and friends. He is a mechanic—a wood-engraver, I believe. I have several times spoken with him and like him. He is quite, unassuming, and quite interesting in conversation. I have heard him speak in the Lodge with great fluency and eloquence. His health has been delicate of late.'

'You seem to feel very much for such a sort of person, it seems to me! Well, go! I will try and pass the evening as well as I can; as I do those when you are at the Lodge!' and the lady pouted and looked ill-pleased.

'Why not let me call and ask lively Amy Otis to drop in and pass the evening?'

'I had rather not have her.'

'Why not go to your father's. I will see you there and call for you when I come back.'

'No.'

'Then pass the time reading Frederica Bremer's last.'

'I shall go to bed.'

This was said so very positively and angrily that her husband said no more, except 'good evening!'

She waited till she heard him close the street door, and then sprung up and began to pace the room. The cricket was in her way, and she kicked it out of her way. The piano-stool was an obstacle to the free exercise of her limbs and she tilted it over. For full five minutes she continued in this amiable mood, during which annuals strewed the floor, chairs were laid upon their backs, and the poker and shovel took a turn or two of cachucha about the room. At length she threw herself upon a sofa and played the devil's tatoo with her little left foot upon the carpet till she was tired. She then pulled a feather fan to pieces and cast the fragments around her; took up a book, glanced into it and flung it to the further end of the room, greatly to the peril of a splendid French mirror, and to the utter demolition of a cologne bottle that unluckily lay in its progress.

The fragrance of the spilled cologne, or perhaps exhaustion, calmed her, and after venting a few gentle epithets at the Odd Fellows in general and at her husband in particular, she rung for an ice cream to be brought her from the next confectioner's; a very excellent cooler in such cases.

Mrs Preston, was not a simpleton, nor a vixen, nor a fool. She had good sense, a cultivated mind, and knew a great deal better than to act as she did. But she was jealous; jealous of the Lodge not of a woman; for she had too just an appreciation of her own beauty if not of Charles' constancy to be jealous of any lady. No. The Lodge was her rival. It robbed her of a part of his society all of which she felt it was her right to monopolize. She was like a stingy child with a sweet apple: He must enjoy it in a corner lest somebody would want a bite.

She had from the first, openly shown her hostility to the Lodge; and many had been the scenes of tears and recriminations between them; he being too firm to yield to her weak entreaties to withdraw from an institution he knew to be so worthy; and she blind only to her own selfish love for every hour of his time. At his refusal she would retort,

'You pretend to friendship, love and truth!—Where is your friendship for me? Where is your love for me? Where is your truth, when you refuse this my love, after you solemnly pledged yourself when you married me, Charles, to love and honor me! Is this loving and honoring me. If you think so, I do not!'

While Mrs Preston was eating her ice, Amy Otis came in; and being now in better humor, (ices are an unfailing prescription in these matters!) she managed to receive her husband very amiably, when at half past nine he returned.

He looked gratified at the change in her; but made no remark before Miss Otis. He was grave and thoughtful. At length he said, smiling, as he looked at his wife—

'Miss Amy, my wife has scolded me a little for being an Odd Fellow, you know. She tried to have me stay in to-night. But as I was on the sick committee I could not very well. I am thankful I did not,' he said impressively. 'Would you like to hear,' he added, addressing the young lady, 'where I have been?'

'Yes,' she answered laughing. 'Let us hear, Sir, of some of your great benevolent doings!'

'After I had walked five minutes from my door I turned into [illegible] Lane, and with some difficulty found the house I sought. It was small and of humble exterior. I knocked, and a poor, thin, pale young woman came to the door. I asked if Mr. Pellon lived there? She said that he did. I told her I had come to see him, having just heard of his illness.

'He is indeed ill, Sir. I am glad you have come to see him, Sir. Are you an Odd Fellow?' [illegible] with an eager look.

'Yes.'

'Then all is well for us!' she answered gratefully. 'He is my husband, sir. He has not been well this six months. And the last six weeks he has n't been able to work for the dengue in his fingers. This worried him and wore upon him and made him right sick at last. Well, sir, as his daily earnings were eat up by the four children and us two as fast as it came in, it—he depended on him; and he has been paid low of late, there are so many engravers that are not married that work for very little. So he grew sick and took to bed with fever!'

'And how long has he been so ill?'

'Four weeks, sir.'

'And why has he not made it known to the Lodge?'

'So I told him; but he said no. He said he would keep from the funds of the Lodge till the last minute. So he made me sell this and that for food and to buy medicine.'

'This sensitiveness was all wrong,' I said to her. 'The fund was in part his own contribution. He was entitled to it as a right. It is never regarded in the light of an alms.'

'But he felt it was, sir; and he is proud—Well, sir, we struggled on till to-day, when he proving worse and nothing to sell and nothing to eat, I made him tell me who was the 'Grandee' of the Lodge; and so I puts on my bonnet when he was asleep and goes straight to his store. He received me kindly, said my husband should at once be attended to; and that's only an hour since; and here you are already sir, come to see me!'

She pressed my hand with tears and expressions of the deepest gratitude. I entered the sick man's room. He lay upon a bed reduced to a skeleton. He turned his large glazed eye upon me and smiled as he recognized me.

'You have come to a poor man's house, sir,' he said, as if mortified at his poverty. 'I did not expect I should so soon call on the charity of the Lodge.'

'You are claiming of me only your right and my due,' I said. 'No Odd Fellow can be regarded as an object of charity. He is looked upon as a distressed brother, and the duties extended to him are those of love. We owe each other only love. It is this that has brought me here.'

He smiled gratefully and pressed my hand with his skeleton fingers, which were hot to the touch. I found that he and his family were perfectly destitute. There was no cooling medicine for him; no food for them. His wife told me that the children had eaten nothing since dinner and were gone to bed crying for food, and she had for their sakes eaten nothing since the night before.'

'Oh horrid! Dreadful!' exclaimed both Amy and Mrs. Preston, in tones of pity and sympathy.

I instantly went out and hastened to the next grocery. There I filled my handkerchief with bread, cheese, cakes, oranges for the sick man, a paper of tea and sugar; under my arm I placed a bottle of wine, and in my hand bore a quart of fresh milk. With these treasures I hastened back to the scenes of affliction and wretchedness. My presence soon cast sun-shine upon the gloom. In less than half an hour things wore a new face. I despatched a note to two of my fellow committee men, with instructions to bring a physician, and come prepared to stay for the night, as my wife would by no means give me permission to be out.'

'Charles! Charles! this, is too, too, severe,' said his wife bursting into tears.

'Nay then Mary, I did not write so to them of you! I withdraw the words.'

'I deserved it if you did! I have been all, all, wrong. Forgive me.'

'Freely!' he said, kissing her hand. 'I remained until they came with Dr. [illegible] By the time I came away every thing around the invalid was comfortable; clean bed linen for himself, and plenty of food in the house. The doctor said with careful nursing he might recover. I took leave of him a little while since, leaving the two Odd Fellows watching by his bedside. When they leave him at dawn their place will be supplied by two others. I ought to be one of them; but—

'Charles! Charles! Go! go! Be one of them! From this moment I speak only of your Order with honor and affection!'

Cannibalism on the Coast of Africa.

A gentleman in the African trade, who has been many times on the coast, informs us that the horrid practice of cannibalism exists among some of the negro tribes to an extent of which Europeans have no conception. He informs us that the people of Bonny, who are at war with a neighboring tribe, invariably eat their prisoners, and are themselves eaten when taken prisoners; and mentioned to us in the particulars of the murder and devouring of a native princess, which occurred during the present year, on a part of the coast much frequented by European ships. These dreadful facts give a double interest to the efforts which are making by Mr. Jamieson and others to introduce the commerce and arts of Europe in Africa, and to prepare the way for civilization and Christianity, which alone can put an end to such inhuman practices.—Liverpool Times.

A friend at our elbow wishes to know whether eating dead men is anything like as bad a crime as killing live men. The inhumanity he says consists in the killing and not in the eating. There is something in that.

The Columbia Observer, published at the doc[illegible] of Col. Polk, gives an account of a Loco Foco meeting held in that country, (Maury) a few days previous to the 15th inst at which the most [illegible] blasphemy was perpetrated. A man [illegible] into the Loco Foco church, and [illegible] in the regular style, the administrator of the ordinance using the following ceremony:—"I [illegible] thee in the name of ANDREW [illegible] the Father! James K. Polk, the Son!! and [illegible] LEWIS, the Holy Ghost!!!"

Mechanics' State Convention and Festival of the Portland Mechanic Association.

The crowding together of the Mechanics State Convention, the Odd Fellows Celebration and the various political assemblies on the eve of our State election has hardly allowed the conductors of newspapers to do justice to these several matters. We give our readers, to-day, upon the first page, the official account of the late State Convention of Mechanics held at Portland. This account gives but an imperfect idea of the beneficial influence of these annual gatherings of the spirited discussions—the happy social and intellectual influences—the elevated sentiments and just views of duty, which are brought out and enforced. It is difficult in any report to make the public understand all these matters, but those who attend the Conventions remember them all with pleasure, and find themselves essentially improved thereby. We wish therefore that more of the Mechanics of the State would become interested in the proceedings of these Conventions and give their attendance and share in the benefits.

In connection with this Convention the Portland Mechanics Association celebrated their Tri-ennial Festival by a procession—a display of Banners appropriate to the different classes of trades—a public address by one of its members and suitable religious services—with a splendid collation at Exchange Hall, where the members and their wives with a large number of invited guests besides the members of the Convention, enjoyed a season of delightful social intercourse, and partook of an elegant repast. The liberal things provided by the Portland Mechanics in the way of refreshments, and the higher entertainments of the intellect, the social feelings and the soul, by addresses, cordial greetings, sentiments, songs and music, for so large a number of friends, gave a high zest to all present and left upon the mind the most delightful associations connected with the Convention and the occasion.

The Portland Mechanics opened their hearts for the reception and their houses for the entertainment of the members of the Convention, thus proving the strength of their kind regards and the largeness of their hospitality.

It would afford us great pleasure to give a detailed account of the intellectual part of this festival, but they have not, we believe, been published. It was highly gratifying to notice in the Hall several of the clergymen of Portland, John Neal, Esq., and others of different pursuits, mingling together in social concord—the clergymen bearing their public testimony to the intelligence correct morals and enterprize of the practical mechanics of Portland, and acknowledging with satisfaction the ready support given by them to the cause of Temperance, of Education and of Religion. John Neal, Esq., the eloquent champion of the rights of woman, while encircled by more than a thousand brave men and beautiful women, came out with a thrilling appeal in behalf of the intellectual and social equality of woman with man, and, indeed, boldly insisting upon the fact that women were the best of all the "producing classes". Many other addresses were made, several by members of the Portland Association, which would not suffer in comparison with those delivered by any one present, or with those of any profession generally, on similar occasions.

We left Portland with a higher impression of the moral and intellectual worth of the mechanics of Portland, and with a firmer faith in the progress that correct sentiment is making in the public mind, and a more earnest determination to encourage the work of intellectual cultivation among earth's toiling multitude.

☞ The dwelling house of Mrs Gen Harrison was entered a few nights since by some burglars, and a valuable watch stolen.

Painful Rumor.

There was a painful rumor in this city yesterday afternoon, that the noble steam boat Charter Oak, which left this city in the morning with a large number of passengers for Boston, had blown up at the mouth of the river, and nearly all had perished.

We immediately made the most earnest inquiry into the rumor, and learned that it came by the way of Brewer Village, passing along from mouth to mouth. Of course this was not to be credited, because intelligence of such a character would be conveyed here by any of the towns on the River or Bay with the utmost speed. We refer to the rumor now for the purpose of rebuking that cold hearted indifference to suffering, and the base wickedness or criminal idleness that could induce any one to set such a rumor afloat, however improbable the case might be. We know of no severer punishment one could receive than to feel the collective anxiety and fears of the community on whom such a rumor falls.

Catching a Thief—Recovery of Property.

Our city Marshal, Mr. Walker, on learning that a yoke of oxen had been stolen from the field of Capt J. W. Jordan, in this city on Saturday night last, set himself about their recovery and on Wednesday found them, together with another yoke of oxen that had been stolen from Hermon on a farm owned by Mr Phillips, in Orrington. He arrested two men who were supposed to be the thieves but failed to identify them as such.

About this same time he having had his eye upon a loafer of suspicious appearance for several weeks and who he suspected as the person guilty of breaking open the store of Messrs Bartlett & Roundy, of Harmony, in July last, and finding that this fellow had a coat being made by a Tailor the cloth of which corresponded to the description of goods stolen, kept a close watch upon him, and learned that a coat left at the Tailor's shop by this man whose name we understand is Joshua Brown, was one stolen a few weeks since from the hotel of Ewer in this city had him arrested, for stealing the coat, examined and bound over. He then procured a search warrant and on opening Brown's trunk found within it goods answering precisely to those stolen from Bartlett & Roundy. The owners probably arrived in the city last evening, and Brown will probably be arrested on this case. Thieves have a poor chance of escape in this city while Walker is on his legs.

On a second and thorough examination of the effects of Brown, several articles, to the amount of about $40 have been identified as the property of Jenness & March, stolen some time since, and when several hundred dollars in money were exposed.

Hopeful prospects for Maine—Health and Fecundity around Fort Kent.

Dr. Wortherspoon, of the United States Army, now at Fort Kent, in this State, remarks in a letter that for two months not one of the men at Fort Kent has been confined to bed by sickness, even for a single day, and the same good health seems to prevail in the surrounding country.—This, he says, is the more to be wondered at, on seeing the crowds of little unvaccinated wretches that swarm around the door of every log hut, half clothed, and but poorly fed on sour, black bread and potatoes. Nothing has astonished him so much as the large families that are found among the French inhabitants. Five adjoining married couples have had in all forty children, of whom thirty-five are living. A man immediately opposite the Fort, on the other side of the river, has twenty-seven by two wives, the second of whom bore fourteen. Lareut Ferriaud, at Green River, has had twenty five children by one wife, no abortions. B. Le Crog had nineteen children in eighteen years, and of these five pair were twins. Pierre Richgu has had six in three years; three pair twins, all now living at Shattaquoi, six miles below the fort. In one house is a woman with five children under three and a half years, one twin and one triplet birth. Her husband was then expecting soon to be presented with another pair of the 'pretty prattlers.' The probability is that "Ould Ireland" can hardly hold a candle to the Madawaska plantation in either the production of children or potatoes.

American Servants.

Numberless amusing stories are told, illustrating the unfitness of our republican youths, educated in the country, for the situation of servants, and the following, whether an anecdote or a mere witticism, is not the worst we have seen:—

"A young man from Vermont was hired by a family who were in extreme want of a footman. He was a most friendly parsonage, as willing as he was free and easy; but he knew nothing of life out of a small farm-house. An evening or two after his arrival, there was a large party at the house. His mistress strove to impress upon him that all he had to do at tea time was to follow, with the sugar and cream, the waiter who carried the tea—to see that every one had the sugar and cream—and to hold his tongue. He did his part with an earnest face, stepping industriously from guest to guest. When he made the circuit and reached the door, a doubt struck him whether a group in the farthest corner had had the benefit of his attentions. He raised himself on his toes with, "I say, how are you off for sweet'nin' in that ere corner?"

The idea of drilling "a free and independent" Vermonter into anything like discipline seems to border on the rediculous. The inhabitants of that state go for the longest liberty in manners—and their own good sense prevents them from doing any thing intrinsically wrong. As a general rule it may be laid down, that were the political rights are the same, there can be but little difference of manner. Each man feels himself as good as his neighbor.

To be always contented—consider that you will never in this life be free from annoyances, and that you may as well bear them patiently as fret about them.

☞ The Belfast Signal states that it feels warranted in saying that in the Waldo congressional District Mr Hagan, candidate for the special election is not chosen and that the election of Mr Sawtelle is very doubtful.

☞ It is reported at Frederickton N. B. that the Imperial Parliament had appropriated the sum of £70,000 for the erection of Military Works at the Grand Falls. The works will soon be commenced.

☞ Four Indian traders from Chariton Co' Missouri, were attacked and plundered about 250 miles above St. Peterr, a few weeks ago, by a party of Lisiton Sioux Indians. Mr Turner was drowned subsequently, in endeavoring to cross a river, and Mr Bennet was the only one of the four who escaped. Col Bruce has left Fort Snelling, for the purpose of arresting the offenders.

☞ The county of Waldo has probably voted to adopt the Town Court system.

☞ It is reported that in some parts of Massachusetts and New Hampshire a serious disease exists among potatoes. A letter from Green Co. N. Y. says:—

"The potatoes are all perishing about us, and indeed all through this part of the State, in the ground and out of it. In some instances, after being dug and put into barrels in the cellar in perfect order, they have been found in three days so offensive, as to render it necessary to throw them away. This will prove a great public calamity, so important is the potatoe crop to all."

Mogador.

We publish, says the Morning Herald, the following extract from a private letter dated Marseilles, August 29, twelve o'clock:—The 15th, at half-past two. P. M., the enemy's fort opened their fire against the Suffren, Jemmapes, and Triton, who were manœuvring to take up their stations. At three o'clock the vessels had taken their stations. The fire now became general, and lasted till six o'clock. At five o'clock the enemy's batteries were silenced. More than 100 pieces of cannon defended the town, and were well served. At four o'clock the Belle Poule approached close to the town; the brigs and steamboats now attacked the island. At half past five the forts from the island were nearly silenced. This hour some infantry, artillery, and engineers debarked on the island, and were received by a volley of musketry. They, however, soon got possession of all the batteries—garrisoned by 350 men. The island was occupied. The next day there were found on the island nearly 200 dead, and 40 severely wounded; 125 were made prisoners.—During the whole of the night the Belle Poule and Cassard continued cannonading the town. The ships of the line anchored, after the action, in the roads. The 16th, the cannonading of the town re-commenced by the Belle Poule with the steamboats. At half-past three a landing was effected—the town was abandoned, the guns were spiked, and thrown into the sea. Several flags and some curious pieces of artillery were taken on board the Suffren, and have since been sent to France. At five o'clock everybody returned to the ships The city was pillaged by the Kabyles."

Com. Elliot has been appointed to the command of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, in the place of Com. Read.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says positively that Gen. Duff Green has been appointed to a special mission to Mexico, and that he has also received a commission as consul to Galveston, Texas.

TO THE PUBLIC.

WHEREAS there are in circulation various reports purporting to be facts relative to transactions of the First Freewill Baptist Church in this city in regard to their late Pastor Elder A. Caverno, and detrimental to said church; and, whereas, the time has not come when the facts should be laid before the public, we therefore request the public, and individuals to refrain from giving heed to any such reports as an investigation has been commenced, and in due time will be carried before a Council of the Presbytery who will be authorised to examine the same and will, no doubt, render justice to the parties concerned.

ENCOURAGE your own State, keep your money at home, here let it circulate, instead of sending it off out of the State for what we can better produce and manufacture ourselves; this will encourage and give employment to those who want it, and create a better market for the productions of our farms, so all shall thrive the better. this we wish to do at our establishment, and as this has heretofore given so extensive satisfaction, and as so many conveniences attend it, we therefore intend to keep articles of home manufacture almost exclusively, and we hope and expect our friends will encourage the enterprise. And we shall be able to give as great bargains as can be found in the State. Pains are taken to procure Iron for our Castings which is said by good judges to be the best kind; and such as will best withstand the action of the fire, and being stout and strong castings will not easily crack, break down, or burn out. By examining the ... at our Stove Store it may be seen that they are superior iron and castings to any of the foreign ... in the market.
